Federal Funds for Research & Development on the Web !

- Data reporting is easier—enter your data directly onto your computer screen.

- Your program and field offices can enter data directly; you grant them access to the Web survey.

- Data errors are reported to you instantly.

Everything is done on your computer screen. Totals are computed for you. Flags indicate when your survey is ready to submit to NSF.

How It Works

On your computer, open your Web browser (such as Netscape Navigator or Microsoft Internet Explorer) and visit http://www.qrc.com/fedweb.
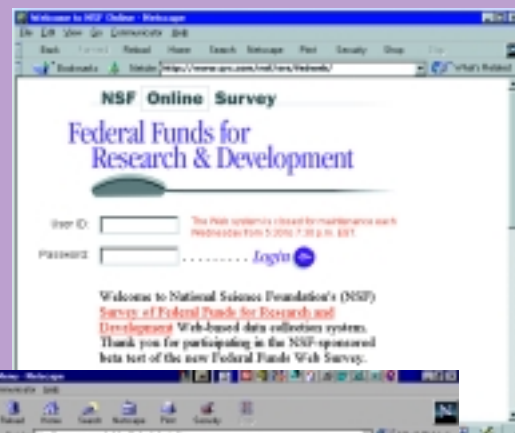

Log in by entering the Agency ID and password you received from NSF. (If you forget them, email us at ffs@qrc.com).

Then you can . . .

- update your contact information

- enter survey data

You Can Also

- monitor program and field offices' data entry progress

- print the finished survey on paper for your records

- work offline using spreadsheets

- get personalized help on your computer screen

More Features

- You can contact your program and field offices, monitor their progress, and collect the data—by computer.

- You can review and revise your program and field offices' data at any time.

- The data are reviewed for errors every time you click on "Save."

- Data are saved to a central database, accessible to you at your convenience.

- After you complete all survey questions, you can make the data available to NSF by the simple click of a button.
